DRAFT – FOR DISCUSSION PURPOSES ONLY

Introduction and next steps

In 2007, the United Nations General Assembly adopted the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (the Declaration), a comprehensive international human rights instrument on the rights of Indigenous peoples around the world. The Declaration sets out the minimum standards for the survival, dignity and well-being of Indigenous peoples throughout the world.

In 2016, the Government of Canada endorsed the Declaration without qualification and committed to its full and effective implementation. On June 21, 2021, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights on Indigenous Peoples Act (Declaration Act or UNDA) received Royal Assent and immediately came into force. It creates a lasting framework to advance the implementation of the Declaration at the federal level.

In keeping with the Act, the Government of Canada is working in consultation and cooperation with Indigenous peoples to identify the measures necessary to ensure federal laws are consistent with the Declaration, and to co-develop an action plan to achieve the objectives of the Declaration.

In December 2021, Justice Canada launched a two-phased broad, inclusive and distinctions-based consultation and cooperation process with Indigenous peoples to advance the implementation of the Act. The first phase involved identifying priorities and potential measures for a draft Action Plan, while the second phase will consist of validating proposed measures and modifying them as necessary, identifying and filling any gaps, and including additional measures.

The release of this draft Action Plan is the result of the first phase of the consultation and cooperation process. Its release by Canada does not signal the agreement or consensus of Indigenous partners.

Draft Action Plan

It is important to emphasize that the draft Action Plan is not intended to be a comprehensive or restrictive set of actions to be taken by the federal government and Indigenous peoples to implement the Declaration – more measures will be needed. However, the proposed measures identified in the draft Action Plan are in areas where there were emerging trends or similarities in proposals among Indigenous peoples on priorities and key actions required to advance implementation of the Declaration Act.

The proposed measures are organized into four chapters:

1. Shared priorities

This section focusses on measures required by the Declaration Act as well as measures that address cross-cutting Indigenous priorities, and responds to priorities put forward to date by Indigenous peoples, including Modern Treaty and Self-Governing Nations, diversity groups (e.g., Indigenous women, Elders, youth, persons with disabilities, 2SLGBTQI+ people) and urban organizations.

2. First Nations priorities

This section lists proposed measures that respond to submissions put forward to date by Provincial-Territorial First Nations Organizations, Historic and numbered Treaty Partners, First Nation Bands and non-affiliated First Nations.

3. Inuit priorities

This section is pending further co-development. It will list proposed measures that respond to submissions put forward to date by Inuit Tapiriit Kanatami (ITK), Inuit Regional Land Claim Organizations, and sectoral and urban Inuit organizations.

4. Métis priorities

This section lists proposed measures that respond to submissions put forward to date by the Métis National Council (MNC), Métis Governments and Métis organizations.

Each proposed measure is categorized as related to the legislated priorities or thematic areas of the Declaration to provide an organizing framework for reporting. These thematic areas reflect the rights set out in the Declaration as follows:

- General principles (applicable to all of the Declaration)
- Implementation and redress
- Self-determination, self-government and recognition of treaties
- Civil and political rights
- Participation in decision-making and Indigenous institutions
- Lands, territories and resources
- Environment
- Economic and social rights
- Cultural, religious and language rights
- Education, information and media

Vision for the future

Note: this section will be developed during Phase 2 of the consultation and cooperation process.

Shared understandings/principles

Note: this section will be developed during Phase 2 of the consultation and cooperation process.

We expect it will include definitions of some key terms and overarching principles.

Next steps toward finalizing the Action Plan

The release of the draft Action Plan marks the beginning of the second phase of the consultation and cooperation process that will focus on validating and refining the proposed measures in the draft Action Plan and identifying any gaps and additional measures required.

Phase 2 will continue until early-May 2023 to ensure that Indigenous peoples and relevant federal departments have further opportunity to participate in the co-development of measures to be included in the final Action Plan. It will also provide an opportunity to share information on progress towards a final Action Plan with provinces, territories, and industry.

We anticipate that this period will include discussion between the Government of Canada and Indigenous peoples on timelines and the identification of implementation processes over the short, medium and longer term. Establishing clear and detailed pathways to implementation for each measure will help ensure that concrete and timely action is taken towards achieving the outcomes set forth in each chapter, and the objectives of the Declaration.

Phase 2 will also allow Indigenous peoples and government departments to work together to determine indicators and measures for monitoring, assessing and reporting progress on implementation. Including clear targets and deadlines for each measure will help ensure more accurate assessment of progress and meaningful annual reporting.

Chapter 1: Shared priorities

As a preliminary note to this Chapter, Canada recognizes that the Declaration Act states that “measures to implement the Declaration in Canada must take into account the diversity of Indigenous peoples and, in particular, the diversity of the identities, cultures, languages, customs, practices, rights and legal traditions of First Nations, Inuit and the Métis and of their institutions and governance structures, their relationships to the land and Indigenous knowledge.”

Canada recognizes that while priorities may be shared among First Nations, Inuit and Métis, adopting a distinctions-based approach may require that Canada’s relationship and engagement with First Nations, Inuit and Métis include different approaches or actions and result in different outcomes.

Legislated priorities

Measures for ensuring that the laws of Canada are consistent with the Declaration

The Government of Canada will take the following measures in consultation and cooperation with Indigenous peoples:

1. Develop a process and further direction for federal government departments to ensure bills and proposed regulations are consistent with the Declaration, building on initial interim guidance for assessing consistency of federal laws with the Declaration. (Justice Canada)
2. Identify and prioritize existing federal statutes for review and possible amendment, including:
 - A non-derogation clause in the Interpretation Act. (Justice Canada)
 - Exploring the development of an interpretive provision for inclusion in the Interpretation Act or other laws that provides for the use of the Declaration in the interpretation of federal enactments. (Justice Canada)
 - Any other specific pieces of legislation either already under review or which Indigenous peoples and relevant departments have jointly identified as a priority for review. (All departments)
3. Where a statute requires periodic review, responsible departments will conduct that review in a manner that ensures consistency with the Declaration. (All departments)

Addressing injustices, prejudice, violence, systemic racism and discrimination

These actions would ensure a better understanding of the root causes of gender-based violence related to resource development and a clear path to addressing them. (Natural Resources Canada)
10. Ensure that federal laws comprehensively protect Indigenous women, girls and 2SLGBTQI+ individuals from coerced sterilizations. (Justice Canada)

83. Co-develop a redesign of the Additions to Reserve Policy. (Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada)

Civil and political rights (Articles 6, 7, 9, 17, 33, 35, 36)

84. Support the adoption of Bill C-38, which seeks to address discrimination in the registration and membership provisions of the Indian Act. (Indigenous Services Canada)

85. Co-develop a collaborative consultation process on a suite of broader reform, relating to registration and band membership issues, prior to any transition away from the Indian Act. (Indigenous Services Canada)

Canada recognizes that the Indian Act is a colonial-era law designed to exert control over the affairs of First Nations, and as such, the Act will never be fully aligned with UNDA. For Canada's laws to fulfill UNDA, the Indian Act must be repealed.

The government is seeking to make the Act's registration and band membership provisions more consistent with UNDA, until a clear consensus on a way forward on comprehensive change or the Act's repeal is possible.

86. Advance the co-development of federal legislation that recognizes First Nations police services as essential services, and provides them with adequate funding. (Public Safety)

Economic, health and social rights (Articles 20, 21, 22, 23, 24)

87. Collaborate with First Nation communities to create viable and respectful alternatives to the Indian Act in support of advancing reconciliation and First Nations self-determination. (Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada, Indigenous Services Canada)

88. Continue to explore options with First Nations on their proposal for CMHC to transfer the care and control of funding for on-reserve housing programs to First Nations. (Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation)

89. Support initiatives aimed at increasing First Nations control over service delivery, which represents an opportunity to foster a more accessible health care system for the communities they serve, ensuring that health services are high quality and culturally safe. (Indigenous Services Canada)

90. Continue collaboration with First Nations organizations on a sustainable approach to transfer First Nations health programs and services through various health transformation initiatives in the following jurisdictions: Manitoba, Nova Scotia, Quebec and Ontario. (Indigenous Services Canada)

91. Continue to improve the Income Assistance program in a way that is more responsive to the needs of individuals and families living on-reserve, including more comprehensive income assistance programming that at least meets provincial comparability. (Indigenous Services Canada)

92. Continue to work with First Nations on closing infrastructure gaps on reserve – based on priorities identified by communities - with the goal of improving current service delivery (including increasing the number of housing units) as well as supporting increased First Nations capacity for housing governance, management, and planning. (Indigenous Services Canada)
93. Continue to support lifting of short and long term drinking water advisories. (Indigenous Services Canada)
94. Continue efforts to advance water and wastewater service transfer and support self-determined service delivery models in First Nations communities. This includes advancing development and introduction, in consultation with First Nations, of new proposed First Nations drinking water and wastewater legislation that includes pathways to protect source water and legally enforceable safe drinking water protections comparable to those in place in provinces and territories. (Indigenous Services Canada)
95. Ensure the implementation of the Accessible Canada Act with respect to First Nations Band Councils is culturally appropriate, and that First Nations are supported in advancing accessibility at the community level by:
 - Fulfilling the Government of Canada’s commitment to engage with First Nations on legislative and regulatory options for the implementation of the Accessible Canada Act on First Nations reserves. (Employment and Social Development Canada)
 - Identifying options to build accessibility capacity and expertise at the community level and support First Nations communities in removing barriers to accessibility. (Employment and Social Development Canada)

Education, information and media (Articles 14, 15, 16)

96. Support First Nations control of First Nation education and self-determined education approaches at many levels, including the conclusion of Regional Education Agreements, as sustainable models, (underpinned by funding comparable to off –reserve education systems) to close the education gap, leads to better outcomes. Ensuring robust and responsive education systems paves the way for access to higher education opportunities, all of which foster more prosperous communities.

Consistent with the commitment to enter into arrangements with Indigenous partners that establish an agreed-upon process when fulfilling the duty to consult, Canada will collaborate with Métis governments and partners to update and fully implement their respective Consultation Agreements with Canada through an effective and efficient whole-of-government approach to consultation and accommodation that aligns with the Declaration.

100. Consistent with the commitments set out in the Memorandum of Understanding for Advancing Reconciliation, 2018, as well as under UNDRIP, Canada will continue to advance reconciliation between MNBC and Canada.
